

eran
Well

Scouting Ireland

5th Clare Newmarket on Fergus

During work to build the railway line at this point in 1854, a significant gold hoard was unearthed. It is now referred to as the Mooghaun Hoard. Several items are to be seen in the National Museum, while the British Museum has several more. The find was the largest ever in these islands but its true extent remains a mystery as many of the items were melted down locally or in Limerick before the importance of the find was realised.

MOOGHAUN COUNTY CLARE

Mooghaun Settlement
An Mhuchain - The Souterrain
Occupied between
1000BC and 750 BC

Mooghaun Castle
Built by Domhnal son
of Rory MacNamara

Turlough

Outer
Protective Wall

Inner Protective Wall

Old
Quarry

North Cashel

Lower Cashel

Bronze Age
house sites

Excavated Dwelling

Summit

Upper Cashel

Car Park

Mooghaun South Settlement

Mid Clare
Way Stile

Langough
Fort

- Extent of settlement 1830
- Remaining structure 2003

Copyright © True North Mapping 2007
Unauthorised copying transmission or storage prohibited.
Reproduced under licence to Scouting Ireland 2007.
www.truenorthmapping.ie